

European ePractice.eu Alert - 9 August 2007

>> Vote the Most Inspiring Case for the European eGovernment Awards 2007

ePractice.eu registered users are encouraged to continue voting online for the Most Inspiring Case for the eGovernment Awards 2007. A list with the 53 eligible cases for the prize can be viewed here.

The voting period will remain open until the 20th of September, when the award winner will be announced at the Ministerial eGovernment Conference 2007 in Lisbon (Portugal).

We encourage all the Awards finalists to get their peers and colleagues to participate in the ongoing voting. Before casting your vote please read the online voting rules.

>> ePractice.eu High Impact Services workshop - Registration open

Registration is already open for the High Impact services ePractice.eu workshop to be held on September 10 in Brussels. This one day workshop, targeted to professionals in the eGovernment, eInclusion and eHealth domains, will explore good practice in the field of High Impact services, drawing upon a small set of case studies. The discussion will be led by prominent speakers in the area who have substantial experience in developing and implementing eServices of public interest.

Registration and more information: <http://www.epractice.eu/workshop/2>

>> Breaking Barriers workshop - Registration open

ePractice.eu members can participate in the Breaking Barriers co-branded workshop to be held on October 31 in Florence. The event, to be held at the European University Institute (EUI), will focus on specific legal and organisational solutions to overcome obstacles in the eGovernment progression. These solutions will form a set of recommendations to the EC at the end of the Breaking Barriers project in December 2007. The event is free to attend, although the number of places available is limited. Early registration is recommended.

Registration and more information: <http://www.epractice.eu/workshop/4>

>> cc:eGov study workshop - Registration open

Registration is open for the co-branded ePractice.eu workshop cc:eGov study, to be held on November 12 in Brussels. The event, the last of a series of interviews and workshops around Europe, will present and analyse the results of the cc:eGov study, a project focused on the relationship between organisational change and the delivery of citizen-centric eGovernment services. Designed as a learning experience, the cc:eGov workshop in Brussels will include a series of master classes led by practitioners who can demonstrate successful citizen-centric approaches in action.

Registration and more information: <http://www.epractice.eu/workshop/3>

>> Win an invitation to the Ministerial eGovernment Conference 2007

ePractice.eu offers 50 of its members the unique opportunity to attend the upcoming Ministerial eGovernment Conference 2007, to be held in Lisbon between the 19th and 21st of September. To enter the contest, you just have to increase your participation in the portal and keep on adding points. How? Since July 17, all activities in the portal (such as updating a profile or sending us feedback) receive a score. Those 50 ePractice.eu users with more points accumulated by September 6 will be the ones who receive a free invitation to the conference.

Read more details in: http://www.epractice.eu/free_entrance

About epractice.eu | To unsubscribe from the Newsletter, please click here.

European ePractice Newsletter is published under a contract with the European Commission. The views expressed may not in any circumstances be regarded as stating an official position. Neither the European Commission nor any person acting on its behalf is responsible for the use that might be made of the information provided.

© European Communities, 2008. Reproduction is authorised, except for commercial purposes, provided the source is acknowledged